I dreamt that you loved me again.

Medium: Acrylic paint

Artist Statement:

Your sweet face, always stuck in my memory. A bittersweet picture, that both heals and hurts me, when I lay down to sleep, I get to dream that you're still with me, when I wake up I'm suddenly choking on reality, that you're no longer mine. I dreamt that you longed for me and not her, for my light hair, and not her dark hair that you actually prefer. I dreamt that you loved me again, and how beautiful was the dream,

Description:

I wrote this poem about an old friend of mine, he's still very dear to me. He's the reason I created this painting, this art represents how he made me feel. I felt colorful, like life was hopeful. I felt fuzzy all over, as if butterflies had been dancing around in my body and leaving beautiful trails of magic dust. The hair is a plant, because just like plants grow, so did my mind after the friendship. I'm still growing and though I miss him, I'm learning that I can create my own colors, I don't need someone else to make them for me.
