Rocky Creek

Medium: Oil paint

Artist Statement:

I wanted to do a painting reminiscent of Oregon's beautiful scenery and nature, so I painted a bright creek scene, with a corner of bright blue sky and vibrant green plants. I want this painting to bring a sense of calm and happiness, opposed to the current state of the world, where so many of us are stuck in our homes, and life seems more bleak. This painting is also dedicated to my mom, who has made this quarantine more tolerable, and I wanted to paint her a scene of something I knew she would love as well.

Description:

Oil painting on canvas. Small creek, lots of rocks, with bushes and trees in background.

Status: Exhibit only
