Artist Statement:

My name is Kevin Nesterov, I'm 18 years old, I was born in Spokane, Washington and Russian is my first language. I started photography in my sophomore year of high school, although I had a few interests in it before I took a digital photography class. My influences often come from the automotive and street photography world and artists such as Larry Chen hold a major influence in my work. This semester I explored into the depths of light painting and even dabbled in self portraits. Overall, my work shows an image for the viewer to attach a story to. The way I perceive my photo may be different to the way someone else sees it, and it all depends on that person's view of the world. My future as a photographer will very likely stay in the automotive field.

Description:

The photo is shot with a long exposure and uses the night time to convey a more relaxed feeling. This photo uses line and space to guide the viewers eyes throughout the image. The shot portrays a lone car driving on an empty country road. This shows how night drives are a very relaxing thing to do when you need to get away from all of the stress and responsibilities of our very real world.
