Artist Statement

My artwork, Embark, represents my upcoming journey in life. As a senior soon to be graduating and going off to college, my next steps in life feel like uncharted waters. I have never left the harbor I call home. There is no boat as I see myself traveling across the water by faith. Having faith in myself and my God that I can walk across the sea and find my way. The ocean and sky in my artwork represent my life. I cannot control the weather just like I cannot control what happens in my life. Some days will be stormy and gray. Other days will be calm and gentle.

Description

The right half of the sky is watercolor using the wet on wet technique layered with blue and white. White acrylic was added to enhance depth of clouds. The left half of the sky is watercolor with layered acrylic. The acrylic colors are a range of blacks,
