Artist Statement

Life is like a book

Never will you know where each chapter will go

Never will you know where each chapter will end

Life is like a book

Keep writing your story

Grow into the person you are meant to be

Survive like the beautiful flower

You would like to see

Description

In this piece I worked primarily with watercolor. This being the medium I was most confident in. I wanted to incorporate line work and ink pens to highlight the front of the painting. The painting features a variety of different watercolor techniques trying to create some contrast between the different parts of the piece. Bringing in the ink helped separate each piece and prevent the parts from blending and losing the lines.
