The Lightning After the Storm

Medium: Acrylic paint

Artist Statement

Hello, my name is Ava Wilson and I attend Lakeside High School, in Nine Mile Falls. I have found my love for art over the years practicing from little doodles in kindergarten to now, taking an art class at my high school. Art has not always been easy and smooth going for me, as I can imagine it has been for other artists as well. When overcoming the thought of being uncomfortable my art flows as it should, helps it grow and express what I truly want it to be. Art has made a huge impact on my life through letting myself experiment with different mediums. The medium I chose to create this piece with was acrylic paint on canvas, which has always been my favorite. My painting represents that most people don't see others for who they actually are besides just a human. I don't always work in this medium, recently I have been trying out drawing which has been a journey. I like that the society of art today makes it possible for so many different ideas and mediums.

Description

I made this piece with many hours of precise painting, and close attention to detail and color.
