Artist Statement

This was one of my first attempts at abstract art with the topic of reflections given to me by my photography teacher. Its something I figured nobody could figure out unless thorough research was done which is what I love about it. Just focusing on the lights and searching for any clue of what the item is with guesses for answers was the whole goal for this abstract photo.

Description

The only explanation I can give for this piece is I needed it for a grade and it just happened to come out spectacular. I find this piece to be a great display of reflection with light bulbs as its source of the abstract mystery. The complete image is a w
