Artist Statement

My favorite kind of photography is portraiture and fashion photography. I've been wanting to experiment with the paparazzi aesthetic for a while, and I satisfied my burning desires with this photo. I wanted the photo to be in an urban setting at night, with flash, and a fashionable model. I called this piece "Schöne Frau," which means Pretty Woman in English, because learning German is another passion of mine, along with photography. I've been learning German for four years now and I am making plans to visit this summer, and maybe I will stay to go study photography in Berlin. I wanted to incorporate my excitement about visiting Germany and my passion for photography in this picture by giving it a German title.

Description

I wanted to take this picture in the dark on the street. I wanted an urban/street style feel for the photo and I wanted it to resemble a paparazzi photo of a celebrity. I wanted the model to look annoyed with me because she didn't want her picture taken.
